Riding a Bucking Bull The Helena Independent states that John son Brothers of Belgrade have a fine Holstein bull which has been trained to buck from a young calf, and with expe rience and age has become such an expert in the art that no cowboy has been able to stick to him for more than three jumps and most of them are landed on the ground after one or two jumps

The animal has been so successful in throwing every man who has attempted to ride him that there is a standing wage offered for any one who can accomplist the feat Many cowboys have come over a hundred miles to ride him, but so fa a hundred miles to ride him, but so far all have been vanquished and have no anxiety to try it a second time. The latest attempt was by a cowboy named Pannell in the presence of some 200 spectators. Pannell, who came forty or fifty miles to try his prowess, was very confident that he could ride the frisky animal At I r m the bull was led out west of town with two long ropes on his head, with six or eight men holding to each rope.

with six or eight men holding to each rope.

The crowd gathered mostly upon the lumber yard near by, where they might witness the performance. The bull was blindfolded and the work of saddling begun. The bull not being entirely saits fied wich the programme, cut up a few anties and delayed the operation, but soon quleted down and the eaddle was adjusted to the satisfaction of Mr. Pannell, who soon mounted. When his feet were well in the stirrups and one hand clasped the buck straps. In the front and the other in the rearrof the saddle, the word was given and this blind, was taken from the bull's eyes. Then the fun began, and it about the strond or third jump the rider landed in the snow, an easy full without bruises or blood. The ghout that went up from the spectators could have been heard half amile, and Fannell withed from the scene at an der and wiser man.

WASHINGTON, March 31. Assistant Secretary Bussey to day readered a decision in the matter of the claims of Joseph P. Smith for increase on grounds of new disabilities in which he overrules the action of the commissioner of pensions in allowing the attornoy's fee of $10. The claim for increase was made under the act of June 27, 1890. The assistant secretary holds that all such claims shall be treated as strictly increased claims, whether are disabilities are claimed or not, for which a fee of only $2 can be allowed. It is probable 200,000 claims will be affected by this decision.

Declaration of Endependence and Constitution WILL not 6.0 to the Fair.*

The friends of the World's Fair here are much disappointed by the confirmation of the rumor that the State Department had finally decided not to allow the original Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States to be taken to Chicago for exhibition as a part of the State Department's exhibit at the fair. The order permitting the removal for this purpose had previously been made and its revocation has occasioned much unfavorable comment. able comment.

ome Changes and Improvements in the Service—The New Arrangement. Mayor Beal and Marshal Gilman called the members of the police force together last evening and gave them instructions as to what will be required of each man during the present year. It is intended to perfection in the matter of discipline. Every man will be expected to perform his work in a faithful and efficient manner, going on duty at the regular hour and remaining on his beat throughout the entire day or night.

As the men have to work seven days and nights in the week it has been decided by the Mayor, at the suggestion of the destroying it has the first occurred to be a seriously consider the question of providing a proper library building, and I have taken some pains to find out what has been done and is now being done in the State of Massachusetts in this department day two members of the day force will be a service, to give each member of the force a half day, as is the rule in other places, each month. For instance every Sunday two members of the day force will be marshal, as an incentive to more efficient permitted to remain off duty until noon, and two members of the night force will go off duty at midnight. In the meantime the other members of the force will be expected to do double duty so the city will be carefully patrolled all of the
